

Excerpt from Shadow Blade (Fantasy Novel)

Josiah Lebowitz

When was the start of all this? Now it seems so long ago... Almost a dream... A black cape and a flashing blade... Milla's beautiful smile... Geld's confident laugh... An unrelenting evil... And my lonely tears...

Do you still remember? Our lives before... And our grand adventures... You were all I ever wanted... Your sparkling eyes... Your smile... And the only thing I couldn't have... Do you still think of me now and then? I think of you every day... I know you're happy... That this was best... But, please... Tell me that, once or twice, you've thought of me and of what might have been... I loved you enough to let you go... All I ask, is that you promise not to forget...

I may be alone, but I press on... Evil beware! The fighter still remains!
